CONCERT ENJOYED SPLENDOR
CONCERT THURS-DAY EVENING

By Jay Paul Minn
Symphonies for concert band are few and far between compared to the countless ones written for symphony orchestras. The fact is not due, for the most part, to any greater difficulties in composition for band but rather to the reluctance of people to accept the concert band itself as a valid or appealing symphonic medium. At first one may be struck by the hollow tones of a band lacking strings; however, upon repeated attendance to the concert one feels that the lack of instruments is equal in emotional impact to those gained from orchestral strings, especially when effects of tremendous power or bleakness, among others, are required.

The concert band is still struggling to gain an equal footing in the public eye; but, indeed, it is said that only recently have symphonic orchestras reached a place of popular esteem and widespread support. We hope that the concert band will some day be popularly regarded as a workable medium for symphonies, cantatas and cantatas. Contemporary composers have contributed greatly to increase the prestige of this medium; Copland, Prokofiev and Gould, all successful in the symphonic line, have spent much effort in creating good music for concert band.

The DePauw University Concert Band Thursday night had a gratifying opportunity to play L. Sanders' Symphony in that under the composer's direction, Dr. Sanders is an American composer of note who received much of his musical training in Italy under such men as Antonio Respighi and Paul Hinder. Since 1938 Dr. Sanders has been the Dean of the School of Music at Indiana University. His compositions have been performed by major orchestras throughout the United States, critics praising his fine craftsmanship and adeptness in contrasts, continuity and form.

The symphony itself is two and a half hours old and is extremely extensive as a serious work, making a good combination of tricky orchestration with dignity and power of contrasting moods. When listening to a work of this one can get a complete picture of concert band possibilities and resources.

The first movement, Andante moderato, begins with a slow introduction working into a light and delicate theme. The movement proceeds like waves of water, building up, bursting, and finally swooping down to form a flute or a horn. The introduction of marimba, triangle and snare drums adds sparkle to the movement, especially when the counter in melody or harmony down to a repetition of opening horn motif the movement ends brilliantly with full orchestra.

The second movement, Allegro, strikes a characteristic rhythmic pattern which moves through the band in many varied ways. As in the first movement, the power is reached only through the pulsing beat, and the melody is heard again and again, making the movement of unusually strong emotional impact. Dropping again in volume, the movement ends in many ways this movement is the best of the three.

IN GREENCASTLE

Frank Thomas was in Indianapolis on business. Albert Dobbis was confined to bed by influenza. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rader are the parents of a son. Mr. and Mrs. C. Ed Jones spent the day in Lafayette the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thomas.

for tremendous appeal is to be found in its relentless funeral-like temper.

The last movement, Allegro spiritoso, enters on snare drum rolls. After a short introduction the movement strikes an immediate march-like character with a theme introduced by the solo trombone. There are staccato effects of difficult complexity and climaxes strongly suggesting Respighi. Then the complicated movement ends with a triumphant rise to full band and a mighty coda.

The soloists in the band were excellent and quite serious and confident in their approach, as was the entire ensemble. The symphony's being in manuscript form added to the difficulties involved, but the performance was on the whole worthy of the professional quality of the music itself. DePauw is fortunate to be able to put on a work of this character with the composer as guest-conductor.

F. P. Inglis, conductor of the band, led the group through several interesting works, all played with the band's usual high tide of efficiency. The "Adoremus Te" and "Sanctus" by Palestrina show pure and classical charm. "Shoonthree" by Henry Cowell is a lyric piece which represents sleep and grows stronger as the imagined sleep progresses. "Mood Mauve" by Russell S. Howland has modern dance-type themes effectively translated to the band medium. "Estudio N. 29" by Muriilo uses tricky Latin-American effects of rhythm. Characteristically Prokofiev in his "March Op. 99," short and snappy with his usual touch of good humor. Modern arrangements of "The Night Was Made for Love" by Kern and "Beguine" by Gould ended the program.

As an encore the band played the spirited "Crossley March," a typical band piece.

Clinton Center
Play April 3-4

"Shoot the Works" a comedy in three acts, will be presented by the juniors and seniors of Clinton Center High School, April 3 and 4 at 7:30 p. m. at the Clinton Center High School.

Cast of characters include the following:

Kate Ashworth..... Phyllis Wichmann
Laura Ashworth..... Jerry Miller
Lucinda Livermore..... Lucille Ratcliff
Lou Undine..... Glennie Martin
Ruth Bright..... Enola Cunningham
Jud Clarendon..... Bill Ensor
Max Neal..... Lee Roy Love
Homer Boylston..... Hubert Crodian
Guy Priest..... Bill Clodfelter
Jake Moore..... Bill Keyt
Sally Hunt..... Carolyn Connerley
Dex Newall..... Bob Call
Joshua Perkins..... Everett Martin
Bessie Perkins..... Norma Keyt

Besides having a very interesting and complicated plot this play contains some of the funniest sequences you've ever seen on a stage. For example, there is Miss Undine who has a phobia for stealing chairs. The minute anyone vacates a chair she sneaks into it, with most hilarious results. The romance between Miss Undine and Jake Moore, Guy's hardboiled bodyguard is in itself enough to scream at.

Joshua Perkins, the millionaire "dandy" and his wife, Bessie, the home's only legitimate guests, add a delightful contrast to the excitement and laughter.

WOMAN GRAD
BURIED HERE

rites held at Forest Hill Cemetery for Mrs. Browder

Burial services were held Saturday afternoon in Forest Hill Cemetery for Mrs. Ella Jones Browder who died Wednesday morning at the home of her daughter in Chicago.

The body was brought here during the early afternoon over the Monon railroad and taken to Forest Hill cemetery where short services were conducted.

Mrs. Browder was the oldest living woman graduate of DePauw and the second woman to be initiated into the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority which was founded on the DePauw campus by the late Betty Lock Hamilton. She held the DePauw bracelet, given a few years ago to the oldest woman graduate.

CITY HALL CONTROVERSY

1880—"The Common Council Monday night adopted the plans of C. A. Wallingford of Indianapolis for an engine house, the estimated cost being $5,000.00. The BANNER is decidedly of the opinion that unless rooms are added for city offices the building ought not to be erected."—The present city hall and engine house was erected in 1892, replacing the one located on the corner where Horace Link and Co. is located. Our records are not available as to whether the building referred to in the article was erected in 1880 to be replaced by the one now standing, or whether the matter was dropped until the present building was erected.

RUSSELLVILLE ITEMS

"Late corn will not be half a crop; but we have plenty of fruits and vegetables. The village continues to improve since the railroad was built. Darter is erecting a large grocery store. The livery stable of Gardner and Leonard is almost completed. Russellville is a good market for grain. The Fair began Monday—Politics is not much discussed. We need stirring up."—So it went in Russellville in August, 1880.

FLYING MACHINE

The Banner in quoting from the Chicago Times had this to say about Mr. Edison and we are unable to say whether it was meant to be complimentary or critical—"Mr. Edison now contemplates a flying machine. If it is as successful as most of his inventions, Mr. Edison will soar like a mud turtle."

GREENCASTLE ITEMS

"Peaches are selling on the streets at 75c a bushel—Bob O'Hair is home from Minnesota. He tells some wonderful fishing stories—A number of citizens visited the camp meeting at Lafayette on Sunday—Mrs. Dr. Tingley and Josie came home Monday evening—J. F. Darnall's stable burned last night with a $300 loss. Horses and buggies were saved.—It looks as though camp meetings are a thing of the past. We remember when we used to go and spend several days. Everyone brought many good things to eat and it was a way in which families and friends met for reunions. The meetings had social as well as spiritual significance.

Programs Planned
By 4-H Leaders

Junior 4-H Club leaders from the various clubs of the county will present programs for a series of township Farm Bureau meetings within the next few weeks.

This is the time of the year when all 4-H clubs swing into full action and these junior leaders will explain the club program, its advantages and possibilities to parents and boys and girls attending Farm Bureau meetings.

The first of the series of meetings will be Monday evening, March 31, in the Bainbridge Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock. Jack Moss, James Gram, Susan Rowland and Loretta Evans, all of Greencastle, will present the 4-H Club program.

On Wednesday night, April 2, the Washington township group will meet at the Reelsville school to complete their township organization and hear Larry Brandon, vice-president of the Indiana Farm Bureau. Doyle Nichols of Monroe township, Kenneth Mann of Cloverdale, Dorothy Reeves, Greencastle and Phyllis McElroy of Washington township will present the 4-H Club program.

The regularly scheduled township Farm Bureau meetings will be held as follows: Monday, April 7, Floyd township at Floyd Center school at 7:00 o'clock, a pitch-in supper with Doyle Nichols, Frederick Sutherland, Leona Denny and Mary Frances Torr presenting the program; Tuesday, April 8, Franklin and Jackson townships in the Roachdale library at 7:30 o'clock with Franklin township junior leaders presenting the program; Wednesday, April 9, Clinton township at the Clinton Center school, a pitch-in supper at 7:00 o'clock with Allen Clodfelter, Dale Newsum, Rose Ellen Ruark, Betty Eastman and Mary Alice Nichols presenting the 4-H Club program.

Thursday, April 10, Marion township at the Fillmore school at 7:30 o'clock with Warren Harlan, Jim Gram, Rosetta Snyder

NEW NET COACH

FRANKLIN, Ind., March 29.—(INS)—Appointment of Robert R. Harvey as head basketball coach at Franklin college was announced today.

Roy E. Tillotson, director of athletics, who made the announcement, said increased enrollment and expanded athletic programs would require his giving up the hardwood sport to a new man.

LIST WINNERS FOR COUNTY IN ESSAY CONTEST

JACK MOSS, CITY, WINS FIRST; BAINBRIDGE GIRL IS SECOND

Jack Moss, Greencastle High School senior, has been named the Putnam County winner of the Indianapolis News, WIBC essay contest.

Moss will receive a $25 savings bond for his winning essay on "Save Hoosier Soil," and his essay along with the second and third place winners will compete for high honors in a state-wide contest.

Betty Sutherland of the Bainbridge school was named the winner of second place and Rob and Lee Neier of Fillmore was awarded third place in the Putnam County Contest. Miss Sutherland will receive $10 in cash and Neier will receive a $5 cash award.

In the state contest the winner will receive a $500.00 cash award, second place winner a $300.00 award and the third place a $200.00 award.

Eighty-two essays were submitted from various Putnam County schools in this contest and the judges were very much impressed by the vast amount of effort and interest exhibited in the essays which were, as a whole, very good and well written.

Iceland Volcano
Becomes Active

REYKJAVIK, March 29 (UP)—Mount Hekla, Iceland's towering volcano dormant since 1878, erupted today.

Mt. Hekla towers above the lava wastelands of southwestern Iceland near the coast and about 20 miles east of the transatlantic airfield built by the U. S. Army during the war. It is about the same distance south-east of Reykjavik.

Hekla dominates the southwestern corner of the island, rising 5099 feet above the coast. There are no important towns near it.

Nearly 20 eruptions, some of them of major proportions, have been recorded since the 12th century—one as far back as 1157 A. D.

Days To Hold
Open House Sun.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora A. Day will observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary Sunday at their home in Fillmore. They will hold open house from 2 until 5 in the afternoon and from 7 until 9 in the evening in their home. At noon they will be the honored guests at a dinner given at the Christian church by the members and their friends.

FARM BUREAU MEETING

An organization meeting of the Farm Bureau will be held at the Reelsville school building, Wednesday, April 2nd at 7:30. Music by the school band, Larry Brandon, vice president of the Indiana Farm Bureau will be the speaker. Everyone is invited.

WIRE NEWS

HAVANA, March 29.—(INS)—A bomb explosion rocked downtown Havana today, shattering windows over a wide area and causing considerable alarm.

The blast took place at the corner of the Produce and Exchange building. An official list of casualties and damage estimates was not available immediately.

WARSAW, March 29.—(INS)—Col. Gen. Karl Swierczewski, Poland's vice minister of national defense, was assassinated Thursday near a town east of Cracow.

Several high ranking officers and his entire bodyguard were said to have been massacred with him.

A government communique said today the party was ambushed by a large band of terrorists near the town of Sanok, which is about 50 miles southeast of Cracow and ten miles from the Czech border.

Other reports described the assassination as having occurred near Krezow, about 80 miles east of Cracow.

ANTREE, England, March 29.—Cauchoo, eight-year-old outsider in the betting, today won the Grand National Steeplechase, the toughest horse race in the world, before an estimated half million spectators.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(INS)—The selective service system that put more than ten million men into the armed services in the past six and one-half years will die at quiet and peaceful death Monday.

On March 31, except for uncounted tons of records, the selective service system of World War II becomes history. The vast machinery has been running on a small amount of horsepower since the final handful of luckless peacetime soldiers were inducted Oct. 15, 1946.

MOSCOW, March 29.—(INS)—Delegates to the Moscow conference were frankly pessimistic today over the possibility of future conversations leading to any major agreements among the four powers.

Some looked to a meeting of Secretary of State George C. Marshall and Premier Stalin as the only hope for preventing the feared break.

Others felt that the adamant position of the United States eliminated even this one last hope.

A meeting between Marshall and Stalin was believed possible at any time, although United States officials insist that no appointment yet has been made.

Marshall was believed to be undisturbed by the fact that he is the only visiting minister who has not seen the Soviet premier, as he was known to prefer a Kremlin visit at a time when it would do the most good.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(INS)—The House un-American Activities Committee charged today that the American Communist party is "in fact" an agent of the Soviet Union and seeks the overthrow of the United States government.

In a documented report to Congress, the committee declared that the Communist party "could seriously dislocate our economic and social life even the effectiveness of our armed forces" if given "substantial aid" by a foreign power.

Governor Takes
Hand In Strike

NEW ORLEANS, March 29.—(UP)—Gov. Jimmie Davis intervened today in Louisiana's militant milk war on the heels of a threat from a sheriff to "shoot to kill" striking dairymen blocking roads to prevent milk shipments into this big city of 600,000.

The governor appointed an arbitration board to seek out both sides and effect a settlement in the five day strike which has resulted in shootings, hi-jacking of trucks and raids on trains for milk cargoes.

Sheriff Teddy Martin of West Feliciana parish told news reporters.

SUPERFORCES AND FIGHTERS
WILL BE EN ROUTE TO DETROIT

Residents of Greencastle will see American air power in full battle dress next Saturday, April 5, when bomber and fighter aircraft of the Strategic Air Command, including formations of war-famed B-29 "Superforts" and P-51 "Mustangs" of the 15th Air Force, will roar in combat formation over the city on a full-scale training maneuver, mapped by Maj. Gen. Charles F. Born, commander of 15th Air Force.

The "Superforts" will launch the aerial training mission from their home base, Salina, Kans., leaving Smoky Hill Army Air Field in Salina at 9 a. m. The planes will fly over this city en route to a simulated bombing attack on Detroit and Michigan.

Illinois Mine
Toll Now 94

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(UP)—A federal inspector reported today that he found 52 safety violations in the Centralia, Ill., coal mine a week before the explosion which claimed 111 lives.

The report was made by Frank Perz, inspector for the Bureau of mines, who made an inspection tour of the Centralia mine during the week of March 17-20.

CENTRALIA, Ill., March 29.—(UP)—Grimy rescue workers who have found 94 bodies in the blast-stricken Centralia Coal mine expected to stumble upon the bodies of the last 17 entombed miners sometime today.

Driscoll Scanlan, Centralia district mine inspector, emerged from the mine shaft with a tired rescue crew at 5 a. m. today to report that two more bodies had been found.

Both bodies were badly burned by the explosion, he said. Their dinner buckets were clutched in their hands. They apparently had started to run for their lives and were killed almost instantly. A watch on the wrist of one of the men was stopped at 3:25 p. m.

Another rescue crew plunged into the mine almost immediately to resume the search. They planned to recheck "coal rooms" already searched before moving onto the points where the missing men are believed entombed.

"It is extremely doubtful that they will find any of the missing men alive," Scanlan said.

COME TO CHURCH SUNDAY

By Francis Kull
The season of Lent, which began with Ash Wednesday, is a season of prayer and fasting. It is a season of contemplation, the suffering of Christ. It is a season of preparation for the great feast of Easter, the Resurrection of Christ from the dead.

Tomorrow, Sunday, March 30, is Palm Sunday. It is the anniversary of Christ's triumphal entry into the city of Jerusalem, when the people laid their palms in his path and waved them in praise, chanting the exultant cry of "Hosanna". In commemoration of this event palms are blessed with special prayers, sprinkling of Holy water and incensation, and distributed to the congregation. This precedes the reading of the Gospel of the entry into the city, when the people laid their palms in his path and waved them in praise, chanting the exultant cry of "Hosanna".

Thursday, called Holy Thursday, is the anniversary of the institution of the Eucharist. Recall that sacred last supper when Jesus was at the table with his disciples and changed the bread and wine into his body and blood, giving his Apostles this command: "Do this in commemoration of Me". There is special devotion to the Blessed Sacrament of this day.

Friday, Good Friday, is the anniversary of the death of Christ on the cross. In this connection we should remind ourselves that Christ not only died, but offered himself as a sacrifice for atonement to God the Father, Christ, the eternal High Priest, offering himself the Divine victim on this day. The sufferings are uncovered and the cross is especially honored.

Saturday, Holy Saturday, is the commemoration of Christ's burial. On this day preceding first Easter Mass, there is the blessing of the new fire, blessing of the Paschal candle, blessing of baptismal water.

Sunday, the feast of the Resurrection of Christ from the dead. In this event we have the triumph of Christianity. As we are sorrowed with Christ in Holy Week, so we rejoice with him in his Resurrection.

And we exclaim with St. Paul: "Death where is thy victory, death where is thy sting?"

Asks Protection From His Wife

GARY, Ind., March 29.—(INS)—A Gary steel worker has appealed to Lake county superior court to protect him from his wife.

The steel worker, Michael Babiak, related his marital woes in a petition to Judge Homer E. Sackett, seeking a divorce and also a restraining order to prevent his "larger and stronger" wife from "molesting" him.

Babiak related that he was afraid to sleep in his own home and was not always able to find another place to live. In his suit he asserted that he spent the night of March 10 sitting up in a restaurant because he was "afraid to go home."

The steelworker claimed that his wife, Mary, beat him up, scratched his face and tore his clothes.

He added that it was necessary for him to go home during cold weather to fire the furnace claiming that his wife did not seem to care whether or not the water pipes froze. To read Babiak's divorce plea, these trips were tense with fear his wife would waylay him.

FARM NEWS

Present plans indicate that the 1947 intended acreage of spring-planted crops in Indiana will be little different than last year's plantings. It was announced today by Purdue University and Federal crop statisticians. The largest acreage change in major crops was made in the 14 per cent increase of the 1,595,000 acres of winter wheat seeded last fall.

The principal changes indicated to come this year in spring-planted crops as listed by the statisticians are as follows: a six per cent increase of 1, 571,000 acres of soybeans, a decrease of 38 per cent or 18,000 acres of barley and 30 per cent decrease or 5,090 acres of cowpeas. The 1947 intended acreage of crops as follows remain 100 per cent of 1946: corn, 4,557,000 acres; oats, 1,500,000 acres; potatoes, 27,000 acres; sweet potatoes, 1,400 acres and tobacco 9,600 acres.

Katharine Tynan, Irish author of many novels and other works wrote the well known hymn "Sheep and Lambs."

The expected hay acreage for harvest will be 100 per cent of last year or 1, 819,000 acres.

The statisticians point out that whether or not these intentions are fully realized will depend to a great extent on the availability of farm machinery and existing weather conditions between now and the time of planting.

Indiana milk production during February, 1947, is estimated at 253,000,000 pounds as compared to 244,000,000 pounds in February, 1946. Milk production per cow milked in February of the current year was 15 pounds as compared to 14.3 pounds per cow a year ago.

Egg production for February, 1947, was estimated at 185,000,000 eggs as compared to 181,000,000 of a year ago.

Indications larger total acreage of principal crops than those of the last two years.

That cheap seed will be no bargain if the harvest has a large percentage of weeds or only a thin stand is obtained due to poor germination. A. S. Carter, assistant State Seed Commissioner, located at Purdue University, gives the basis for buying reliable seed: Buy from a dealer, good seed that is tagged, and study the tag.

Mr. Carter suggests that farmers will usually find the local seed store one of the safest places to buy seed. Local merchants are careful in handling seeds and expect to be in the community for a long time. They know that if they sell bad seed they are more apt to have to buy back bad seed. "The weeds coming back with interest."

Caution is needed in purchasing seed at auction sales where untagged seed is sold to the highest bidder. Also, ordering seed from outside sources without first seeing the labels often lead to unfortunate results, although these sources are subject to the federal seed act. Itinerant truckers, not known to the purchaser and selling untagged seed have left trails of dodder patches behind them.

All items on the tag are important: the percent of weed seeds, pure seeds, other crop seeds, germination, also date of germination, origin of seed and the number of noxious weed seeds per pound. Primary noxious weed seeds are defined as those that cannot be controlled by ordinary cultural practices and secondary noxious weed seeds are those that can be so controlled.

The Indiana law prohibits the sale of seeds for seeding purposes if the seed contains any primary noxious weed seeds, more than one-half of one percent of secondary noxious weed seeds or more than three percent of all weed seeds.

To Know MAN

We must know GOD

"Man, man, is thy brother, and thy father is God." The sooner we absorb the truth of these words of Lamartine's, just so soon will world fellowship be possible. The price of hate and prejudice is war

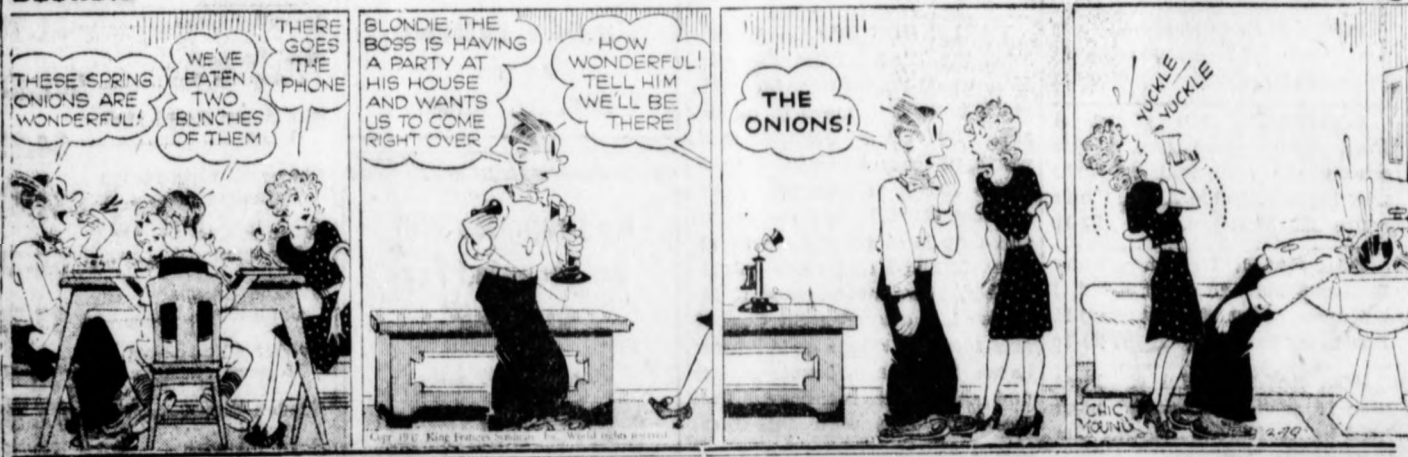

... paid not only by men on the fighting front but by those at home and by generations to come. Lack of understanding and knowledge is the insidious root of wars. Once we realize that all peoples are alike ... all created by the same God. ... all descended from the same forefathers. ... all seeking the same thing. ... happiness. ... it becomes a simple matter not just to tolerate but to respect our fellow men! We become happier people because we like the people around us. ... we are not poisoned by hate. The worship of our common Creator ... whatever we call Him. ... is the basis of unity for men. ... the tie that binds us all together. ... the ONLY way to lasting peace!

Attend the Church of your choice this Sunday, Palm Sunday.
